DESIGN ADAC
4.18-4.20

Welcome to DESIGN ADAC
4.18 – 4.20

Celebrate spring in Atlanta, a city blooming with optimism, April 18-20, 2023 for DESIGN ADAC, an occasion to appreciate wellness and the equilibrium the season brings. ADAC's annual spring market is the perfect reason to head South and delight in colors that are bright and bold, feelings that are light and joyous, and inspiration that is plenty.

Consider the world of design through a new lens with three days of programming featuring keynote presentations, salon-style talks, book signings, product launches, tours and more that explore the principles of balance, the backbone of design and the state of mind we're all seeking. Hear from illustrious tastemakers, captivating designers and architects, and cutting-edge innovators as we celebrate how the principles of design come together to create a world that is surprising and refreshing, customary and unconventional, structured and precise, and ultimately balanced.

DESIGN ADAC is free to attend. Registration required.

Creative Renewal with Architect Bobby McAlpine

Keynote Presentation

Sponsored by VERANDA

Architect Bobby McAlpine has pioneered a singular design precedent that merges modernism and classicism and stands the test of time. And yet innovation and inquiry are the seeds from which his body of work has flourished for nearly 40 years. In conversation with VERANDA Executive Editor Ellen McGauley, the prolific architect explores not only the necessity of creative reinvention in his own work, but how leaning into our own contradictions keeps our ideas fresh and how our homes can become revealing memoirs.

ADAC Presentation Room | First Floor Atrium

Following the presentation, please join Bobby and Ellen at Sutherland & Perennials Studio for a reception. Known for being leaders in the international design industry, Sutherland & Perennials Studio invites you to discover their influential offering of products while Bobby signs copies of his book, Romantic Modernism.

ADAC
BEHIND THE WINDOWS

As we explore the principles of balance, we are excited to celebrate art, an essential part of bringing balance and harmony to any design. Finding the perfect piece to finish a space is crucial to the design process, so as we expand ADAC's offering of original art with the opening of New Alpha Gallery a Frank Thomas Company, it was only fitting to highlight this significant category that can be found at many showrooms throughout our design center for the latest installment of ADAC: BEHIND THE WINDOWS. This season's featured design firms, C + H INTERIORS, The Drawing Room, Habachy Designs, and Regas Interiors, created spaces that emphasize the importance of art in design, and we are excited to invite you to discover why inspiration is plenty throughout the halls of ADAC by visiting these invigorating vignettes.

The best way to experience ADAC: BEHIND THE WINDOWS is to see them in person by visiting the installations at ADAC located in Suites 238, 423, and 503
