From the Ground Up: A Behind-the-Scenes Look at Flower magazine's Atlanta Showhouse
Keynote Presentation

Sponsored by FLOWER

Get a behind-the-scenes look at the making of Flower magazine's first multi-designer showhouse. Flower's Founder and Editor-in-Chief Margot Shaw, along with design chair Suzanne Kasler and seasoned designers Lisa Mende and Elaine Griffin, will share the ins and outs of the showhouse process – from selecting and sourcing products from leading furniture, fabric, wallcovering, lighting, and decorative accessory brands to navigating the nuts and bolts of installation. The panelists will share the inspiration behind their designs and the magic that went into the making of the rooms they designed for this marquee showhouse.

ADAC Presentation Room | First Floor Atrium

Following the presentation, all attendees are invited to join Margot, Suzanne, Lisa, and Elaine for a luncheon hosted by Thibaut. Suzanne will be signing copies of her elegant new book, Suzanne Kasler: Edited Style.

The Role of the Garden in Southern Interiors and Landscape Designs
Panel Discussion

Sponsored by GARDEN & GUN

From the heirloom revival garden at Thomas Jefferson's Monticello in Virginia to the tropical lushness surrounding Vizcaya Villa in Miami, the inextricable connection between houses and gardens thrives in the South. Garden & Gun Style Director Haskell Harris explores this rich heritage with Atlanta interior designer Susan Ferrier of Susan Ferrier Interiors and landscape architect John Howard of Howard Design Studio for a thoughtful discussion about their modern projects—including Susan's displays of natural history in her work to John's deft hand in creating landscapes that echo both architecture and interiors. Following the discussion, join Haskell, Susan, and John for a reception in the Baker showroom. While in the showroom, explore the latest additions to the Baker collection as you enjoy light bites and good conversation.

Rules & Tools for Creating Memorable Spaces
Panel Discussion

Sponsored by Southern home

While every project should be a unique reflection of the client, it is no secret that designers and architects have a cache of proven go-to products and approaches that work in a variety of settings. Listen in as Southern Home's Editor Lynn Terry is joined by designers Ashley Gilbreath of Ashley Gilbreath Interior Design, Kelly Finley of Joy Street Design, and architect Tim Adams of T.S. Adams Studio to share their insights into the key elements they incorporate, as well as the rules they may often break, to craft their successful projects.

The Pages of MILIEU Come to Life
Keynote Presentation

Sponsored by MILIEU

Join MILIEU for a conversation with acclaimed interior designer Jackye Lanham and award-winning architect Stan Dixon to learn about the ground-up design of Jackye’s own Kiawah Island home—from the architectural influences to the finishing interior design details—that is featured in MILIEU’s fall 2022 edition. The fall issue also chronicles the art of slipcovers and how designers, and their very own editors, use them in homes. Leslie Newsom Rascoe, MILIEU’s Design Director, shares intriguing photos from the magazine of the finished Kiawah Island home while talking with Jackye and Stan about their close collaboration. In so doing, learn about the details that made for such a winning result, including Jackye’s unique philosophy about slipcovers and how to best use them in any home.

Sustainability in Community
Panel Discussion

Join Kravet for a conversation on the intersection of sustainability, design, and community with practicing experts. Learn from their experiences ranging from boutique residential to large-scale community projects. What does it mean to incorporate sustainability into design work, and what are the concepts and practices that unite it across disciplines? How can we live in a healthier community with our families, neighbors, and the environment? Danny Seo, Co-principal of RUE and a leading expert on eco-living will guide the discussion about the diverse vocabulary of “sustainability” with Kristin Kong of K Kong Designs, Steve Nygren Founder and CEO of Serenbe, and J. Allen Harris II of McAlpine.

Psychology of Color and Its Emotional Impact
Keynote Presentation

Sponsored by luxé
INTERIORS + DESIGN

Have you ever wondered how the color choices you make in your interiors affect how you feel? Research shows that different colors evoke various psychological effects on the human mind, which can significantly impact our emotional and physical state within any environment. Today, the concept of color psychology has become very popular in art, design, and other areas of our lives that you may not have even realized. Join Luxe Interiors + Design Southeast Homes Editor Kate Abney as she sits down with Color Scientist Professor Stephen Westland, interior designers Melanie Turner of Melanie Turner Interiors and Tish Mills of Tish Mills Interiors, and Sanderson Design Group Creative Director Claire Vallis to explore the psychology of color, how the color-choices we make shape and express who we are.

ADAC Presentation Room | First Floor Atrium

Following the discussion, please join the panelists for a reception in the Jerry Pair showroom and preview Harlequin's new Colour 3 collection inspired by the Silk Road. Melanie will be on hand to sign copies of her latest book, Inviting Interiors: A Fresh Take on Beautiful Rooms.

Design for Small Spaces
Keynote Presentation

Sponsored by Atlanta Atlanta HOME
MAGAZINE MAGAZINE'S

Small spaces can still be big on style—whether you’re designing a high-rise unit, a cottage, or a townhouse. However, when you’re sourcing fewer materials and arranging fewer square feet, each decision becomes ever more critical. Can you use big patterns and bright colors? What built-ins or multipurpose furnishings provide extra storage? Atlanta Magazine’s HOME and Atlanta Magazine Editor-in-Chief Betsy Riley and a panel of design experts, Cate Dunning of GordonDunning Interior Design, Perry Walter of Walter Studio Interior Design, and Jordache Avery of XMETRICAL, will share their favorite tricks for arranging floor plans, selecting furniture, organizing spaces, installing lighting, and, of course, decorating.

ADAC Presentation Room | First Floor Atrium

Following the discussion, please join Betsy, Cate, Perry, and Jordache at Englishman’s Fine Furnishings, one of the finest names in quality hand-crafted English and European furniture, to continue the conversation over light bites and drinks.

---	---

Design Credit: Shayelyn Woodbery Interiors

As we celebrate the evolution of design, a revitalization of ADAC: BEHIND THE WINDOWS was only fitting. This year's featured designers reflect ADAC's growth and expansion, and, with their own design offices located on campus, they exemplify the core of our community. The vignettes showcase how top design talent use ADAC products, with one designer also incorporating product from AmericasMart, our sister property, in two vignettes, one on each campus, reminding us that you don't have to go far to find the essential elements of luxury that have always been the foundation of fine design.

The best way to experience ADAC: BEHIND THE WINDOWS is to visit the installations at ADAC and AmericasMart to see them in person! However, you can always learn more about the program by visiting adacatlanta.com/behind-the-windows
