Stylish, smart, and eco-friendly—antiques are the perfect blend of familiarity and worldly sophistication. It is like they have a few secrets from their travels and a story to tell. There is an art, or perhaps a science, to mastering the mix of antiques with fabrics and furnishings to create a fresh design—a room with soul that transcends time. Join us for a fascinating discussion on the essential elements for creating spaces that are beautifully designed, functional, and tell a unique story.

Southern Home Editor Lynn Terry will be moderating a discussion with design powerhouses Eric Ross, Carolyn Kendall, and Mark Simmons, who are renowned for crafting stunning interiors that convey a unique sense of belonging with their selections.
